· MARINES v. ALACRITY. Played on the Naval Ground yesterday. Soon after starting the Marines scored a capital goal through Higham, and continued to press throughout the first half.

The defence of the Alacrity, however, held out stubbornly and at the interval the score read :- Marines, 1; Alacri y, 0. On resuming, the Warines continued to press but their opponents broke away. Hill shot hard into the Marine goalie's hands, who trying to clear he carried the ball through his own goal. Both teams tried hard to secure the winning point but when the final whistle blow the score was unaltered, two goals being divided.

reapentirely. In the coming school year, an attempt will be made to instil into our boys a sound liking for good liberature, by providing, in higher classes, more than single reader for the year's work. Boys will be encouraged in what has been happily termed silent reading, which, un-der suitable guidance, should create a wholesome capacity for organised study, and a healthy taste for good books. The system is now being tried at Home; and there is much to be advanced in its favour. It may be both possible and advisable, in the course of the next three or four years. to attempt some separation of our Upper School into divisions roughly corresponding to the Commercial and Classical sides found in schools at Home. Not too slavish an imitation, should be followed; our differences are so great, our aims so divergent. It seems but fair, to add here a word of richly merited appreciation of the splendid industrial work so unobtrusively done in Victoria Gaol. Quite a numher of well-worn volumes in the College Library have been re-bound there in a m st serviceable and workmani-ke manner. On the Vernacular side, confined to the Lower School, 305 boys, arranged in 5 classes and 15 sections, were examined; 362 or 91.6 per cent passing. These results also are an improvement on those of last year. Of these boys, 63 in 4 sections, are 1910. in the 5th or highest class; 87, in 3 sections. in the 4th class; 10, in Sections, in Class 3; 83, in 3 sections in class 2; and 52 in 2 sections in the first and lowest class. has hitherto been the practice to insist on before he can be promoted from the Lower School to the Upper, i.e., before he can pass out of Class IV. Boys entering the lowest Vernacular class have so far been expected to have had a preparatory ground ing equal to 2 or 3 years' work in Chinese studies. The standard should be raised at each end: we should in this way get boys with a still better Vernacular training in the Upper School, where they would then be able to do more advanced translation, and thus be better equipped for the university The Normal Master, Mr Tanner, a boy passing the 4th Vernscular class

his Annual Report addressed to me, says that the Pupil Teachers and Acting Pupil Teachers in his charge have given him every satisfaction: their work has been systematic and regular. He draws attention to the fact that they have been considerably hampered, owing to the lack of suitable accommodation for criticism and training lessons-most vital parts of any systematised scheme of Normal work. This condition has been brought about partly by the increased number of Pupil Teachers now under the Normal Master, and partly by the fact that we have not hitherto had a adequately furnished normal room. The disadvantages named, however, will entirely cease to exist, when we are able to come into possession of the new normal room now on the point of completion. Asto the thoroughly sound work done by the Pupil Teachers, I can add my own testimony, based on close daily observation throughout the School year and on the annual examination to which they are submitted by me, to that given by the Normal Master. During the year under review, 113 boys are recorded as having got situations immediately on leaving school: 31 obtained appointments. chiefly clerical, in different departments of the local Government: 11 went into the service of the Imperial Chinese Government, 31 into various mercantile firms in the Colony; while 40 found openings abroad. Five boys left owing to poverty, 8 were dismissed, and Fatruck off the roll. Quito a large number leave after the chief holidays—Ts'eng Meng, Midsummer, and New Year-without assigning any reason. This is a great pity, because, naturally, we like to know definitely what each student does when he finally leaves The tennis, cricket, football, hockey, and bathing clubs keep up a vigorous and succossful existence, providing for the physical moeds of these who care for the more active forms of exercise. Corporal Bedbrook. R.G.A., has succeeded Gunner White, R.G.A., in the Gymnasium. He is a capable and efficient instructor. again most gratefully acknowledge the generosity of all those who so regularly send donations to our prize fund. PARLIAMENTARY PROSPECTS.

A REMODELLED CABINET

Reuter's Service to the China Mail.) LONDON, February

It is stated that after the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Thron has been voted, and before reintroduction of the Budget, a motion will be introduced re-affirming privileges of the Commons in reference to money bills and declaring the necessity for a change in the relations of the two Houses.

It is hoped that this will satisfy the Liberals who are demanding that the question of the Lords' veto shall be dealt with before the Budget.

It is expected that the Cabinet will be largely remodelled. Mr. Birrell (Chief Secretary for Ireland) will probably succeed Mr. Herbert Gladstone as Home Secretary; Mr. Winston Churchill, late Sir E. L. Williams, the famous engineer President of the Board of Trade, will Lord MORPETH (Unionist). succeed Mr. Birrell; Mr. John Burns succeeding Mr. Churchill, and Mr. H. L. In the course of cross-examination, de fendant adhered to his statement that he and Allana tore up their agreements of partnership in the firm of Allana and Co. Why did you on the eve of your bankruptcy sacrifice your share in this shop ,:-I was not bankrupt,

- Before Mr Slade addressed the Court, Mr Potter raised a point in reference to the partnership between Moosa and Allana. The case for the trown was that in fact defendant's share had been transfered to his infant son, as deposed by Allana. Allana further added that it was a fraudulent transfer. But it did not matter, he (Mr Potter) contended whether the assignment was fraudulent or not. The effect of its being fraudulent, was that it was not valid as against the trustee in bankruptcy, but it was a good assignment in the sense that it passed the property from Moosa to another person. Accepting Allama's statement as true, for the sake of argument then Moosa had no longer got any share in the partnership, and whether the transfer was finudulent or not did not hiske any difference whatever. If the jury were to convict they must do so on the case for the Crown, or, in other words, on Allana's evidence, which he was sure they would not -- do -- unsupported -- Defendant -- was indicted for concealment of goods, but if the goods were not his the indictment

Mr Slade replied that the legal effect of the document, according to Allana's state. ment," was nit. If the statement was to be believed, it was a document executed not for the purpose of being acted upon, but was intended to be used as a shield against outside claims, if necessary. 'Allana's case was that Moosa's share had not been taken from him at all, but that he and Moose were still partners All that had been done was that Allana had signed a document which could be used to negative the suggestion that Allana and Moosa had ever been partners. That was the whole scheme of the document, His Lordship noted the objection raised by Mr Potter.

Addressing the Court, Mr Slade referred to the counts in the indictment charging prisoner with concealment of property, asserting that the onus of proof that there was no intent to defraud was on the prisoner." If there had, been concealment it was assumed to be fraudulent unless prisoner proved to the contrary. The same thing applied to the charge of material admission or mis-statement in the statement of affairs. Speaking to the jury, counsel said they had to decide whether defendant had been guilty: series of fraudulent acts in connection with his bankruptcy, "The principa witness for the Crown was Allana, and on that man had been made a most vigorous attack. He was held up to them -and would no doubt be so again-with burning .words from Mr Potter, as one of the basest and lowest of humanity, a man whom nobody could believe in any possible circumstances, a man who had confessed being guilty of all the atrocious crimes the wit of man could devise. That was the character in broad outline; possibly a little exaggerated-(Mr Potter-" Not a bit," and laughter) which his friend was going to gether on the ground that his answers be. Mr E. D. C. Wolfe presided over a meeting of the Sanitary Board on Tuesday Mr P. N. H. Jones, Hon. Mr A. W. Bre win, Hon. Mr E. A. Hewett, Mr A. Shelton Medical Officer of Health, Dr Pearse assistant Medical Officer of Health, and Mr/W. Bowen Rowlands, secretary.

PAPERS DETAINED.

The President said he regretted that papers 1 to 4 on the agenda had been detained for a long time by a certain member of the Board for some reason or other. and in consequence some of the members

It was agreed that the papers should be there had been no trouble whatever.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST CONTRACTORS. The other three papers referred to comolainta against the Kowloon conservancy and scavenging contractor, the Hongkong conservancy contractor and the conservancy and scavenging contractor for Shaukiwan. With regard to the Kowloon contractor, the President said the committee appointed fit to carry out his contract any longer. Before submitting their report to the Board, however, they wished to give his sureties time to consider the matter. The committee's decision was approved and the contractor was called before the Board... ..

The President stated, with regard to the complaint against the city contractor, that at the time the committee was appointed to investigate the charges against the Kowloca man, the question was raised of appointing a committee to deal with pharges against any contractor, but it was not put in the ferm of a resolution. He did not know whether members would like the matter to be dealt with by the whole Board, or whather they would prefer to carry out the suggestion and appoint a permanent committee to deal with all charges and report to the Board. Mr Shelton Hooper thought that the charges should first be referred to the committee. He moved that a standing committee be appointed to investigate and deal with charges made against all contractors employed by the Board, and that the President, the Registrar-General and Mr Lau Chu Pak be appointed members of such Committee.

Hon. Mr Hewatt seconded, and the motion was agreed to. The President stated that he had never had to report the city conservancy contractor before, but recently, for some reason or other, that contractor absolutely declined to furnish proper numbers of the men engaged by him, or to give their names. An absolutely fictitious list had been provided, and there was not a single boatman who would answer to the name given him. There was a great improvement in the work of the scavenging and conservancy contractor at Shaukiwan

On Girl's Face and Back -- Back was Dreadful to See-Itching and Pain Kept Sufferer from Work for Weeks at a Time—Amazed at Prompt Cure Effected by Just

ONE SET OF CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Some time ago my back and face were not so consple-uous on my face, but my back was dread-ful to see. The itch was very painful to bear. I was away from work for weeks at a time, but I did not consult a physician: " I was sick of trying different rem-edies; in fact, I did not put much faith did try them. At last, getting a cake of Cutleura Soap, I washed myself with it. I, was amazed to see the difference it made, and therefore I bought a box of Cutleura Cinkment. That was all I needed; the cure was complete after having been annoyed eleven months. I shall be glad to recommend Cutleura to my friends. Miss Jeanie Riach, Ladysmith, Gray St., Perth, Sootland, June 23, 1908."

Effected by Cuticura Soap,

Ointment and Resolvent. The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriesis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in some and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in tetter or salt rheum—all demand, a remedy of extraordinary virtues to suc-cessfully cope with them. That Cuti-cura Soap, Cintment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are such stands proven by unquestioned testimonials.
